

2019 International Conference on Humanistic Studies at HUFS

(January 10-12, 2019, Global Campus, HUFS, South Korea)

Subject: “East and West as Centers in the Centerless World”

Hankuk University of Foreign Studies

Global Campus: Centennial Complex (the 1st floor), International Seminar Hall

co-organized by CORE and the Institute of Philosophy and Culture, HUFS sponsored by National Research Foundation of Korea

Date	Section	Time	Speaker	Theme
January 10.	Reception and Opening	9:45-10:00	Opening Speech
	Keynote Speech	10:00-10:30	Prof. Tchi-Wan Park (Department of Philosophy, HUFS)	Is Center Replaceable?
	Section1: International Studies		10:30-11:00	Prof. Chang Min Lee (Division of Integrated Japanese Studies, HUFS)	Exploitation or Facilitation?: Effects of Japanese Direct Investment in Korea under the Colonial Rule
			11:00-11:30	Prof. Seungwon Song (Department of Malay-Indonesian Interpretation and Translation, HUFS)	Remembering Origins in North Maluku: Foundation Discourses and Means of Conceiving Them
			11:30-12:00	Prof. Koudela Pál (Kodolányi János University of Applied Sciences)	Migration Policy as Means of Cultural Identity Formation in the Visegrad Countries
			Lunch Time
			13:30-14:00	Prof. Péter Krisztián Zachar (National University of Public Service)	New Tools for a Dynamic, Sustainable and Social Economy in Central Europe: The DCCA Initiative
			14:00-14:30	Prof. Kyu-Deug Hwang (Division of African Studies, HUFS)	Some Reflections on Indigenous Approaches to Building Peace in Africa
			14:30-15:00	Prof. Young-Woo Kwon (Department of Philosophy, HUFS)	Subjectivity and Inter-Subjectivity in International Studies
			Break Time
	Section2: Language and Literature		15:30-16:00	Prof. Dongkyu Kim (Division of Japanese Language, Literature and Culture, HUFS)	A Study of Non-Politeness and Its Tolerance in Contemporary Japanese Communication: Focusing on Recognition of Intermediate and Advanced-Grade Japanese learners
			16:00-16:30	Prof. Young-Jin Keum (Division of Japanese Language, Literature and Culture, HUFS)	Potential for “the World without Centers” Seen in Japanese Culture Dissemination

		16:30-17:00	Prof. Changhak Moon (Division of Japanese Language, Literature and Culture, HUFS)	On the System of Parts of Speech in Japanese and Korean
		17:00-17:30	Mingjie Dan (PhD Student, Department of Chinese Language and Literature, HUFS)	A Study of Korean Translation of Chinese Dish Names from the Perspective of Intercultural Communication
		17:30-18:00	Lianzi Piao (MA Student, Department of Chinese Language and Literature, HUFS)	Analysis of Four-Word Idioms in Northeast Dialect
		18:00-18:30	Young-Hyeon Ryu (PhD Candidate, Texas A&M University)	Sympathy of Perception and Moral Judgment: A Reading of J. M. Coetzee's Disgrace
		Dinner Time
January 11.	Section3: History and Philosophy	10:00-10:30	Dr. Sookhwa Lee (Department of History, HUFS) Youngjin Jeong (PhD Candidate, Department of History, HUFS)	Diplomacy(1905~1908) and Oriental Peace Theory of Na Yinyeong
		10:30-11:00	Prof. Alexander Kim (Department of international Relations and Law, Vladivostok State University of Economics and Service)	Deribas and "Korean question" in USSR at 1920-1930s.
		11:00-11:30	Jon Chang (Independent Researcher)	New Evidence on East Asians in Soviet Intelligence
		11:30-12:00	Yeon-soo Ahn (MA Student, Department of History, HUFS)	Formation and History of Turkish Communities in Germany
		Lunch Time
		13:30-14:00	Prof. Guanjun Wu (Department of Political Science, East China Normal University)	The Rivalry of Spectacle: A Debordian Analysis of Contemporary Chinese Culture
		14:00-14:30	Dr. Ermylos Plevrakis (Department of Philosophy, University of Tübingen)	Globalization and the End of History
		14:30-15:00	Prof. Young Ran Chang (Minerva College, HUFS)	The Concept of Zhonghe in Aristotle and Confucianism
		15:00-15:30	Dr. Matsuzawa Hiroki (Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Ohtani University)	Dynamic Structure of Human Existence in Watsuji Tetsuro's Ethics

	Break Time
	16:00-16:30	Prof. Ralf Beuthan (Department of Philosophy, Myongji University)	Nowhere of now here?: Thoughts on the Diversity of Philosophical View Points
	16:30-17:00	Prof. Dae Seong Jeong (Institute for Modern Korean Studies, Yonsei University)	After the Enlightenment: A Criticism of Criticism of Eurocentricism
	17:00-17:30	Prof. Christian Spahn (Department of Philosophy, Keimyung University)	Reason and the Geography of Thought: Philosophical Reflexctions on Cultural Psychology
	17:30-18:00	Prof. Yong Chen (Department of Philosophy, Shanghai Jiao Tong University)	Kant and Heidegger on Freedom and Autonomy
	18:00-18:30	Heechul Oh (PhD Candidate, Department of Philosophy, HUFS)	The Gettier Intuition across Cultures
	Dinner Time
	January 12.	10:00-10:30	Prof. Won-Myoung Kim (Department of Philosophy, HUFS) Se-Young Seo (PhD Candidate, Department of Philosophy, HUFS) Hye Young Lee (PhD Candidate, Department of Philosophy, HUFS)	Centerless Center, Wonhyo's One Mind
		10:30-11:00	Dr. Sunjin Yang (Department of Philosophy, HUFS)	Korean Philosopher, Jung Je-du's Korean Modernization and Life Subject
		11:00-11:30	Dr. Won-Ho Choi (Department of Philosophy, HUFS)	The Comparison between the 'Naturally Pure Intrinsic Enlightenment' in Commentary on the Awakening of Mahāyāna Faith by Wonhyo and 'Dehors' by Emmanuel Levinas
Closing Address				